

You have booked an appointment with the Tax Administration

If you do not bring the correct documentation, it will take longer to process your case.

Applying for a tax deduction card for the first time:

- Passport or an EU/EEA national ID card that states your gender.
- The filled-out form RF-1209 Application for tax deduction card for foreign citizens (https://www.skatteetaten.no/globalassets/skjema/2022/rf1209e-2022\_2.pdf). If your employer applies for you (<https://www.skatteetaten.no/en/forms/rf-1355-an-employer-may-apply-for-tax-deduction-cards-on-behalf-of-foreign-employees---rf-1355/>), you do not need to fill in this form.
- An employment contract or written offer of employment. If you work for an EU/EEA company and have been posted to Norway, you must also bring an assignment contract.

Reporting a move to Norway:

- Passport or an EU/EEA national ID card that states your gender.
- The filled-out form RF-1401 Notification of a move to Norway (https://www.skatteetaten.no/globalassets/skjema/alltid/rf1401\_2020e\_kodet.pdf).
- Documentation showing that you have a right of residence in Norway for at least 6 months, for example a registration certificate from the police or other documentation to show right of residence (<https://www.udi.no/en/word-definitions/checklists-which-explains-which-documents-you-must-hand-in-with-your-application/#link-5412>).
- Documentation showing that you're going to stay in Norway for at least 6 months, for example,
  - a house purchase contract or rental agreement
  - an employment contract
  - a confirmation of assignment from a staffing agency
  - a confirmation that you're a student

If your documentation is older than 3 months, you should also bring a confirmation showing that it's still valid.

If you're moving with your family, then your whole family must attend this appointment.

Undergoing an ID check to confirm your identity or to reactivate your D number:

- Passport or an EU/EEA national ID card that states your gender.

Do you have children under 18 who are also going to undergo an ID check? See what you must bring to your appointment (<https://www.skatteetaten.no/en/person/foreign/norwegian-identification-number/ID-check/>).

Declaring paternity:

- Valid identification.

In most cases, you can also declare paternity online (<https://farskapsportal.nav.no/en/>).

Welcome to the Tax Administration!
